The employee initiates and follows through on routine tasks with minimal supervision. Situations that arise which are not covered by instructions are referred to the Executive Vice-President or dealt with independently, depending on the circumstances. Normally, the employee identifies what needs to be done and indicates the priorities, deadlines, and resources available.

The employee monitors the work of subordinates for accuracy, completeness, compliance with policy, and achievement of objectives, evaluates their performance and provides counseling.

Guidelines:

The employee refers to MHA's and HUD's guidelines in performing work. These guidelines cover most job-related situations, although the employee frequently is required to use independent judgment in making decisions. Routine work is instructed and problems encountered by the employee do not require extensive analysis to identify them. Tasks frequently have to be coordinated, integrated and/or prioritized. Decisions regarding unusual circumstances may be made by the employee and/or referred to the supervisor for resolution.

Scope and Effect:

The employee's work primarily impacts the new development program of the housing authority and the Authority's residents and non-residents. Successful accomplishment of duties by the employee will result in timely completion of those programs and provide better, more-affordable housing for low-income families in the community.

Personal Contacts:

Contacts are primarily with other Authority employees, federal, state and local governmental officials and representatives, and community agencies. The employee has contact with architects, engineers, consultants, contractors, and Authority residents. The primary purpose of contacts is to obtain, give or clarify information, plan and provide assistance, and resolve problems. Contacts are normally cooperative; however, they may be occasionally antagonistic, unresponsive, or uncooperative contacts.

Physical Demands:

Work is principally sedentary but involves some physical exertion during on-site visits with residents or staff members, inspections of Authority developments, and construction sites, and facilities. Physical demands may include bending, stooping, bending, standing, walking at construction sites, climbing ladders, and exposure to outside elements.

Work Environment:

Work involves the normal risks or discomforts, associated with an office environment, and is usually in an area that is adequately heated, lighted, and ventilated. From time to time, it involves visits to outdoor developments, sites, dwellings or facilities, inspections of structures and/or confrontations with residents, employees and contractor personnel.
